

The workshops are voluntary training activities aimed at allowing students to acquire transferable skills that are useful for studying some or all degrees and for later professional life.

Every year some workshops are offered during the academic year, at the request of students or on the initiative of the tutors or the school management. These workshops may be offered for one course or for all the courses of a faculty, and some may even be open to all students of the UdL.

It will be informed properly about the workshops are intended for, the conditions of pre-enrolment and the associated documents.
